

The new me.

I have been at AkiraChix for twenty six days and i have learn so much already. In those few days i have learn basic home training like making my bed every morning, keep my surrounding clean. I have learned different things in each subjects ;

Fronted web

Fronted web

- I learned how to create a website
- I learned about HTML
- I also learned how to create a Github account

Fronted mobile

- This is where I learnt what git is.
- I learnt Introduction to Kotlin functions
- I learnt about Kotlin operators
- I learnt about how to collaborate with others on Github
- I learnt about Kotlin itself

Navigate your journey (NYJ)

- I learnt about self discovery
- I learnt how to introduce myself to people
- I learnt how to present myself and be presentable

UX/UI Research

- I learnt what research is all about
- I learnt different types of research
- I learnt about HCD
- I also learnt how to apply HCD and its importance
- I also learnt how to make my own research

Quality assurance

- I learnt about SDLC
- Types of testing
- How to apply testing

UX Design

- I tried my artist skills on paper
- We learnt about elements

Not only was i in class only but I also learnt different games like foosball.

